

ACOE Membership Dues

Full Member (Engineer) 200.00

Section 1: (Full Member) A person whose principal activity and employment is presently in plant and facility engineering for the purposes of operation and maintenance.

Associate member (all others) 190.00

Section 2: (Associate Member) The term, Associate Member, shall refer to those individuals whose principal activity or employment is directly related to plant or facility engineering work in a specialized branch of the profession or concerned with the dissemination of knowledge by teaching or through publication of related technical material, or one who either by engineering, technical or scientific attainment or by practical experience is qualified to cooperate with or provide a service or product to plant and facility operators. These professionals are known as but not limited to teaching professionals, MEP design engineers and or hold a Masters License in a recognized support trade critical to plant operation and maintenance.

Student Member (enrolled in school) 15.00

Section 3: (Student Member) A Student Member is one who is presently enrolled in undergraduate studies in a university, college or technical school and is employed as an apprentice engineer, pursuing a course curriculum in preparation for a career in plant and facility engineering.

Corporate Membership 100.00 does not include any corporate employees these must be purchased separately, SEE BELOW.

Section 8: (Corporate Membership) A business or Corporation involved in supplying or the developing plant or facility products and is interested in furthering the purpose and goals of the Association, is eligible to submit an application for Corporate Membership. Acceptance as a Corporate Member will entitle said Corporation to three (3) representing employee members per year. The names of the representing employees must be submitted with the application and upon all future renewals. At the time of billing, the Corporate Members shall submit the dues in effect for their designated members. Designated members may be substituted by written notification to the Secretary. Each designated member may be substituted only once during the calendar year. Any Corporate Member shall, if asked in writing, put on a presentation for the membership during a regularly scheduled meeting.

Corporate Employee 120.00 (requires corporate membership)

ACOE Meeting Expenses

Meeting Attendance

All Engineers and members in good standing
FREE

For all others 20.00

Meals cost

All members in good standing FREE

For all others 30.00

Valet Parking

FREE with validation sticker

Please tip your Waiter/Waitress, and parking attendant.